

Scholastic Superstars

Career Technology Center of Lackawanna County appointed two outstanding seniors of the 2018 graduating class as Scholastic Superstars.

Sergio Benavides: Computer Systems/ Advanced Networking- Scranton High School

Sergio is a member of the CTCLC chapter of National Technical Honor Society and Scranton High's National Honor Society. Sergio has consistently challenged himself academically, enrolling in honors classes at Scranton High while maintaining a high level of performance in his CTC program. Sergio has earned his PC Pro Test Out Certification which verifies necessary skills to work as an information technology support professional. Sergio earned a PA Skills Certificate for Advanced Scores on NOCTI and up to 12 college credits. Sergio will be entering the US Navy upon graduation and has been placed in the Advanced Electronic Computer Field with a goal of studying Nuclear Engineering.

Cody Malaker: Commercial and Advertising Design- Carbondale Area

Cody is member of the CTCLC chapter of National Technical Honor Society and Carbondale Area's National Honor Society. Cody is an accomplished illustrator having participated in the production of two books which have been distributed to elementary schools in Lackawanna County. He has displayed his art work at First Friday Scranton/Northern Light and Wonderstone Gallery. Cody maintains a part time job at Weis Markets, and is an accomplished musician. Cody has earned a PA Skills Certificate for Advanced Scores on NOCTI. Cody's written score has made him eligible for a College Credit Recommendation Report and up to 9 credits. Cody will continue his academic and technical career at Keystone College in the Art Education program, where he has earned a Merit Scholarship in the amount of $52,000.

